DIPLOMAS

Are Presented by President Wilson to Graduating Class at Naval Academy

SECY. DANIELS DELIVERS AN ADDRESS

Urge Need of Trained Men In War

AND PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE

To Naval Consulting Board, Saying It Already Has Started Work of Great Value to Nation—Advises Young Officers to Specialize in Some Particular Branch of the Service.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Annapolis, Md., June 2.—President Wilson arrived here today to deliver the diplomas to the members of the graduating class of the naval academy. The naval yacht Mayflower with the president and his party on board anchored in the Severn river at nine o'clock and was saluted with 21 guns by the station ship. The trip from Washington was uneventful.

Secretary Daniels welcomed the graduating class at the Naval academy into actual naval service with an address counselling a steady continuation on their part of the training and studies begun at Annapolis in order that the navy, dependent upon their knowledge for efficient expansion and keeping, might remain equipped and prepared always for any emergency. The secretary told the graduates they were coming into the navy at the period of its largest expansion, its highest efficiency and when lessons from Europe point directly to the need of trained men in war if human life is to be spared, from the killing of men unprepared and unskilled in the science of militarism.

"We have learned as never before during the present world war," the secretary said, "that courage on the battlefield is the commonest, as well as the most glorious, attribute of our humanity. The man who, in patriotic outbursts, hurries to volunteer on land or sea often fails to appreciate the fact that his service lacks the highest value unless he is trained in arms. The pathos of human lives sacrificed in war because of unresilience is the saddest lesson taught by the European war. It is a lesson which has served to awaken America to the need of training men."

The training that produces skill and efficiency, said the secretary, should be encouraged among naval officers after they are graduated, if the navy is to profit by their services.

"Another lesson of the war and one needed in America," he continued, "is that industrial preparedness must go hand in hand with building battle cruisers and other naval craft, and securing more trained officers and men. Men of the nations had but dimly understood that ability to quickly mobilize the resources and convert industrial plants into munition factories was as important as to mobilize men." Secretary Daniels paid high tribute to the naval consulting board, which he said had already undertaken the pioneer of industrial preparedness in the United States and would soon provide the army and navy with this essential feature.

"I counsel you," he continued, "to early marry yourself to a special branch of the service, for an ounce of expert knowledge in the days that are before you, will be worth a pound of general information. The man who is to win the highest place in the navy of the future will be looked upon because he has made himself a master of his specialty. The time will come when expert knowledge will be the chief demand upon you."

The graduates also were reminded that "the old things are passing away and new ones must be devised." The responsibility of providing weapons and strategy to meet the unrevealed possibilities of certain instruments of war, he said in conclusion, would devolve upon them.

800 VENIREMEN EXAMINED; ONLY EIGHT ACCEPTED.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Waukegan, Ills., June 2.—The opening of court today found the jury in the trial of Will H. Orpet for murder no nearer completion than it was at the end of last week, when eight jurors had been sworn in for service. The trial has been in progress for sixteen days, during which time more than 800 prospective jurors have been examined. A further panel of fifty men has been summoned for today, as yesterday's examination exhausted the last summoned without resulting in the acceptance of a single juror.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, June 2.—One hundred boy and girl victors in county, village, district and city spelling contests in 80 counties of the state were assembled here this morning for the state "grand prize" contest which will be conducted in the house of representatives of the state house. It will be the second annual state spelling "bee."

It was announced by state superintendent of public instruction Francis B. Pearson, under whose direction the contests are held, that names of the winners would be announced at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The school boys and girls are to be addressed by Superintendent Pearson and Governor Frank B. Willis, and will be given a street car ride about the city.

What is declared to be an innovation and an improvement over methods formerly used in conducting a spelling bee is the manner in which the contestants' abilities to spell are to be tested today.

First, 100 words will be pronounced to the contestants, 100 will be printed phonetically and given the boys and girls to correctly spell on paper and finally, 100 words will be printed part correctly and part incorrectly and submitted for correction.

Last year's contest lasted until after midnight, it being necessary to resort to writing in order to decide the victor in the grand prize event.

TORNADO BLOWS WABASH TRAIN FROM TRACK

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Bloomington, Ills., June 2.—A tornado blew the Chicago-St. Louis fast mail train No. 17, on the Wabash railroad from the tracks near Sauvieville, Ills., early today, injuring 18 persons, one probably fatally. The accident occurred in a deep cut which kept the cars from overturning and probably prevented heavy loss of life. The combination baggage and smoking car and four coaches were blown from the track. A Pullman sleeper crashed through the smoking car, tearing it to pieces. It was in the smoking car that the most injuries to passengers occurred.

A special train was made up at Decatur, and carrying doctors and nurses, rushed to the scene.

BRANDEIS IS CONFIRMED AS SUPREME JUSTICE

Washington, June 2.—Louis D. Brandeis' nomination to the supreme court, bitterly fought by the Republicans for five months, was confirmed late yesterday by the senate. The vote was 47 to 2.

Three Republicans who voted for Brandeis were Senators La Follette, Norris and Poldexeter. Senator Newlands was the only Democrat who voted against him.

Senators Clapp and Gronna, Republican, were paired in favor of confirmation.

Judge D. Brandeis, Boston lawyer, will be sworn in as a member of the supreme court probably June 12.

Mr. Brandeis is the first Jew to be elevated to the highest tribunal in the land. He succeeds the late Associate Justice Lamar, of Georgia. The fight over his confirmation was one of the bitterest in the senate's history.

Granville

[Special to The Advocate]

Granville, June 2.—Having excavated Broadway in most thorough manner, the big steam shovel has been taken to the Fred Hobart gravel bank on North street, and today it will begin loading wagons with gravel to be used in paving Broadway. In a few days the concrete mixer will be in operation in West Broadway, where the steam roller already has been at work from the corporation line to Plum street. Meanwhile, if the rain should cease for a time, the detour into west Maple street will be adequate for the west bound traffic.

Follett, Mrs. Grover, Mrs. B. I. Jones and several fraternities men, friends of the groom, who was a student in Denison and a member of the Beta Theta Pi. The bride, Miss Katherine Seigwick, is well known in Granville, as it was here that the years of her childhood were spent, and it was here that her great-grandparents, her grandparents and her parents resided, each generation being prominent in the social and civic life of the village since its settlement in 1805.

The next attraction of great public interest will be the concert in the Baptist church next Sunday afternoon, June 4th, on which occasion a cantata composed by Mr. Willard Rockwood, a Granville boy of marked musical genius will be presented. This latest composition is said to merit the enthusiasm it has aroused. The big commencement stage will be required to accommodate the choruses of mixed voices, of men's voices, of women's voices, and the chorus of children. The soloists will be: Mrs. Joseph D. Orr of Pittsburgh, a relative of the composer, Miss Grace Jeanette Brooks, head of the voice department in Denison conservatory; Mr. Gerald Athey, baritone; Mr. Derwent S. Whittlesby, bass; Mr. Karl H. Eschman, director.

GERMANY'S FLEET

southwestern extremity of Denmark. This would indicate that the battle was fought off the coast of Denmark. From the reef to Helgoland the main German naval base in the North sea is about 100 miles.

News of the engagement was held back by the British authorities possibly pending the return home of the fleet and the first news received of the battle came by wireless from Berlin by which means the Germans are able to escape the censorship over cable lines.

The losses in the engagement must have been extremely heavy. The battle cruiser Indefatigable, for instance, from which the German admiralty reports only two men were saved, probably had more than 900 men on board and others of the vessels sunk carried complements of men probably or nearly as large.

Previous to this battle Great Britain had lost during the course of the war, ten battleships, seven cruisers and various smaller craft. Germany had lost 18 cruisers, 19 auxiliary cruisers, chiefly converted passenger liners and numerous smaller vessels.

Since the beginning of the war British cruisers and destroyers have patrolled during day and night the approaches to the German fleet's base, in the bay formed by the mouths of the Elbe and the Weser, protected by the mighty fortifications of Wilhelmshaven on the south, on the north by the supposedly impregnable defense of the Kiel canal and guarded by the Orkney island of Helgoland. Until the engagement that has just occurred, however, no German fleet has put forth in force to necessitate the giving of the alarm to the British fleet that its foe was coming out to give battle. The rendezvous of the British battle fleet has been a secret, but is generally believed to have been in the Orkney Islands north of Scotland.

The long months of watchful waiting by the British, however, were broken into by two naval engagements in which comparatively small squadrons of German warships were involved, and in both of which the British were victorious. On August 28, 1914, Admiral Sir David Beatty, on his flagship the battle cruiser Lion, led his squadron in a daring dash into the light of Helgoland. In an engagement almost under the guns of this great fortress, three German armored cruisers and two destroyers were sunk with a loss of 2,500 men.

On January 24, 1915, a German squadron attempting a raid on the British coast, encountered Admiral Beatty of the Doggerbank, and in a running fight the German cruiser Blucher was sunk and two of her sister ships set on fire.

The most serious losses to the British fleet hitherto have been through the operations of German submarines and by means of mines. Such an instance occurred Sept. 22, 1914, when the British cruisers Hogue, Cressy and Aboukir were torpedoed within an hour by the German submarine U-9. The German navy, however, performed brilliant feats in regions far distant from Europe, its most notable victory being in the battle of Coronel, Chile, early in the war when the German far eastern squadron attempting to reach home waters encountered a British fleet under Admiral Cradock. In the battle the Germans sent the British cruisers Goodhope and Monmouth to the bottom with all hands. A month later a powerful British squadron met the victorious Germans off the Falkland Islands and of the five German cruisers in the squadron, four—the Scharnhorst, the Gneisenau, the Nuremberg and the Leipzig—were sent to the bottom. The fifth, the Dresden, escaped but was caught at Juan Fernandez and destroyed.

The British dreadnaught Warspite reported destroyed in the North sea engagement, was a sister ship of the Queen Elizabeth, both of which played a prominent part in the attempt of the British Mediterranean fleet to force the Dardanelles. The Warspite was 650 feet long and displaced 27,500 tons. She was built in 1907 at a cost of about $6,000,000. She carried 729 officers and men. Her armament consisted of four 11-inch guns, 14 6.7-inch guns, a number of pieces of smaller caliber and six 17.7 inch torpedo tubes. The German battleship Pommern, which was sunk by a British torpedo boat, displaced 12,997 tons. She was 398 feet long, 72 feet beam and 25 feet deep. The Pommern was built in 1907 at a cost of about $6,000,000. She carried 729 officers and men. Her armament consisted of four 11-inch guns, 14 6.7-inch guns, a number of pieces of smaller caliber and six 17.7 inch torpedo tubes.

Theatres

Auditorium Prices.

Manager Geo. M. Fenberg of the Auditorium theatre, who took charge of that amusement house yesterday, announces that beginning tomorrow he will reduce the price of admission from fifteen to ten cents. He will continue to book the highest grade pictures that can be secured notwithstanding the reduction.

Today Jane Grey will be seen in "Let Katy Do It," a Triangle attraction featuring the great Belasco star. The picture will be repeated Saturday with the world-famed Billie Burke as an added attraction. Miss Burke, one of the country's greatest actresses, will be seen in "Gloria's Romance," in twenty episodes, the first being shown Saturday and Sunday. This is the picture that is creating a great sensation in the big cities of the United States. It will be shown at the Auditorium for twenty consecutive weeks.

Manager Fenberg has booked Dustin Farnum in "The Iron Strain" for Sunday. The new manager states that it is a truly wonderful picture and should be seen by every movie fan in Newark. If the temperature rises and the weather is not the management has made all arrangements to reduce the same to a minimum, making it the coolest theatre in the city.

HUGE SEA TURTLE SLAUGHTERED FOR M'DANIEL PATRONS

A green sea turtle, weighing 320 pounds, attracted considerable attention yesterday afternoon in front of the McDaniel restaurant in the north side of the square. The turtle was shipped from Baltimore and is said to be the largest ever received in this city.

Mr. McDaniel, his first assistant, Joe Kuster, and a corps of assistants, early this morning lead the huge turtle to slaughter and tonight and Saturday there will be plenty of turtle soup at McDaniel's. As a special feature of the turtle feast, which will be served anyway desired, Field's orchestra will render a musical program. The big event of the evening will be the serving of the Con T. Kennedy carnival members later in the evening.

Word that the turtle had arrived at McDaniel's caused several reservations of tables by Newarkites to be made.

OHIO STATE IN RUNAWAY GAME WITH DENISON

Granville, O., June 2.—Ohio State ran away with the game with Denison here yesterday by a score of 21 to 1. Three Denison pitchers were assaulted murderously in the nine innnings and the State combination seemed to be able to score at will.

Eighteen hits plus 10 errors by Denison plus six passes, equalled victory for the Ohioans. Only two hits were granted Denison batsmen by the stingy Mr. Putnam, who grated in mid diamond. He should have been credited with a shutout.

Toward the close of the game the village marshal ought to have appeared on the field with a warrant to arrest the Columbus collegians for assault and battery on one Mr. John Doe, alias Marsh, alias W. Yoakum, but known as McConaughay, in the last inning. These three pitchers were bombarded by the Ohioans. In the fourth inning State batted around. Pitcher Putnam had the honor of hitting twice. Four hits and three errors aided the Columbus nine.

Captain S. Robinson with four hits, Webber with three, and Blake with three, were the slingers for the State outfit. Ladd saved the day for Denison, scoring in the eighth on an error after pounding out a long two-bagger. Score:

Mr. Mack's Resignation.

The formal resignation of Rudy A. Mack, Cincinnati manager of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, confirms the report that he is a candidate in the primaries against Governor Frank B. Willis. His letter serves as his notice to the governor's forces. As seen in the letter the burden of Mack's charge against Governor Frank B. Willis and his administration is that they have made a pact with the Hamilton County Republican organization which is decidedly liberal. Intimation is that Mack will tell what he knows of the reason which impelled the vote given to Willis for governor in Hamilton county and the story of what has since come to be known as the "Cincinnati deal." In his letter, Mr. Mack, heretofore strong supporter of Governor Willis, says:

"Owing to my residence in Hamilton County, and connection with the Anti-Saloon League as its attorney in that county, and as campaign manager for the Hamilton County Dry Amendment League, I have been acquainted with and distressed by the close working agreement between the present state administration and the worst element in Hamilton County. This should not be countenanced or longer permitted by the upstanding moral forces of the state. To more freely bring these conditions, which are typical of state-wide dealings, to the attention of the people of Ohio, I feel it my duty to resign as attorney in Hamilton County for your organization.

A Pertinent Query.

The Wooster Daily News calls attention to an editorial in the Akron Beacon Journal (Republican) commenting on the auditorial deal in Republican ranks. The Journal says:

"E. M. Fullington, who was generally supposed to have the inside track for the Republican nomination for auditor of state, has withdrawn at the behest, it is said, of the powers that be in Hamilton county Republican politics, and because, others say, the governor wanted him to remain as budget commissioner. Whichever be true, Hamilton county politicians followed the announcement of Fullington's withdrawal by putting a candidate of their own in the field. Is it possible that Hamilton county is going to Ohio under the primary system, just as it did under the convention system? Are the days of George B. Cox coming back?"

A Comparison.

Complaint is made of the growing disregard of liquor laws and regulations on the part of non-licensed dealers in the state. Intimation is given of the growth and activity of so-called clubs in the larger cities and the inability of the present administration to deal with the situation. Inspectors of the ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS. Evening stars: Mercury, Saturn, Mars. Morning stars: Jupiter, Venus. Chionea (Lady in the Chair) reigns alone low in the north.

It is as nearly neutral and impartial as possible. It says it is a "crucial and proper question" to put to any man who denounces the President for what he has not done, to ask him what ought to be done; what he would have done if he had been President; what he would do if he were President now.

Is not this perfectly common sense? When the Republicans denounce the Underwood tariff they tell us exactly what they would put in its place. When Mr. Bryan was running for the Presidency he did not conceal his purposes regarding the coinage. He did not ask the people to elect him and leave it to his judgment what should be done about silver coinage. He told the voters exactly what he would do if he were elected and had a like-minded Congress to deal with.

Yet all the Republicans who are seeking the Presidential nomination are denouncing the president for inaction and refusing to tell what action ought to have been taken, or what should be taken now. Some of the more boldest candidates are attacking Justice Hughes for his silence, but the Justice has told the country just as much as any of the tattered Republican candidates have told what they would do if they had chance. All the Republicans are denouncing the President for not doing something beyond what he has done. But what is that other thing? Not one of them will tell. Is it war? Every one of them evades the question.

Joseph H. Choate is not expecting the nomination. He might talk a little more frankly, then, than the men who are seeking the votes of delegates. But he doesn't tell what ought to be done. Indeed, he admits that the President has done everything that diplomacy could, and we have the assurance of Professor Albert Bushnell Hart that he has secured two important concessions from Germany. He says the President has done everything that can be done with the English language, but that the English language is not the most effective weapon in international disputes. It certainly is not. War is a more effective weapon. Is that the weapon Mr. Choate would have used? He will not tell. He, like the rest, evades the "crucial and proper question."

These Republican aspirants for the nomination are practicing a fraud on the country. They denounce the President for inaction. They seek the nomination on the implied ground that they would do something that the President has not done. What is it? Can any question be more pertinent than that? They denounce the Underwood tariff and promise higher duties. They denounce the President and—evade the "crucial and proper question."

Saving Waste Paper.

(Zanesville Times Recorder.)

Within as many days we have read quite half a dozen articles on the necessity for saving every sort and kind of waste paper because of the increasing shortage in the supply for all uses. This shortage however, is being particularly felt in the great newspaper industry which consumes thousands of tons daily.

It is argued that a vast proportion of this daily consumption can be saved and returned to the mills for reutilization if the newspaper readers will exercise only a trifling amount of interest in the matter. Wrappings and papers are cast into the waste barrels; they are burned up as tire kindlers or are put beyond the stage of further usefulness in a hundred different ways. Yet this waste is worth one-half a cent a pound. If housewives would save their newspapers alone they would more than make good their bills for papers and a magazine or two. Wrapping in bundles for convenient handling until the accumulation is sufficiently large and a telephone message in the right direction will cause prompt relief and be of vast benefit. Burning papers is false economy.

"One look will make him love it!" said the stranger. "My partner is very affectionate. If he should throw his arms around you when he comes, embrace him. He is a sweet and lovable soul."

Tuesday came, and with it the sweet and lovable soul. He threw his arms around Samuel, put his handkerchief over his face and rubbed his forehead. Samuel thinks he was hypnotized. Anyhow, under the sweet and lovable persuasion, Samuel drew his $475 from the bank borrowed $300 more, added $40 from his pocket and turned it over.

In return he received a tin box supposedly containing $6,000 in gold and a promise of profits from buying and selling a quantity of jewelry which the affectionate one could get cheap. He was not to open the box until next day.

The box, when opened, proved to contain copper and brass filings. Samuel is no longer happy, and the world is bad.

How anyone can be so gullible in this day and age is a mystery. But evidently Barnum was right—people loved to be fooled, and suckers keep on being born at the well-known rate of one a minute. It's not only the gold-brick man who deceives them, but it is the quack physician, the patent medicine, the gold stock, the tidal real estate—everything which appeals to the something-for-nothing instinct of the people.

When will people learn that all things have their price in human toil, and that the thing which comes for nothing is worth no more than its purchase price?

The "Crucial and Proper Question."

(Philadelphia Record.)

The New York Commercial and Financial Chronicle is as nearly devoid of politics as any periodical can be. Of course, it has pronounced opinions on all matters of legislation and public policy, but as between the several political parties, and the various aspirants for the Presidency,

War and the Christian Ethics.

(Century) It is quite beside the point to prate about the violence Christian nations are doing to the laws of Christian conduct just because certain nations are content to be labeled, what they prettily are not, Christian. Today when so-called Christian nations are flying at one another's throats and we wonder whether, after all, Christianity has failed, we are simply reaping what we have sown—our amazing willingness to accept national expressions of religion as being one with the religion of Christ. If the war means only this to the religious world, namely, that it brings out in lasting emphasis the fact that Christendom is in many things at opposite poles with Christ and in most at variance with the principles of His religion how great a boon it will be to the cause of vital Christianity! For we have all too long blundered in our readiness to accept the official acts of governments nominally Christian as being in line, if not one, with the principles of Christ's Christianity. It is only as we rid ourselves of emotionalism in thinking that we realize the spirit of the world is still the spirit of get, where the spirit of the kingdom not of the world is ever that of give. We cannot reconcile these just because it looks or feels pleasant and appeals to an unthinking sentiment; they are irreconcilable, and must war on with the other until in the end one proves the conqueror.

There is nothing more than hope to justify the propaganda of religious bodies that this may be the last war; nor are we encouraged to believe that the preaching of such a tenet will seriously influence men and nations as they are today when we reflect that our present despondency and grief are not because of the sun of the fighting spirit, but chiefly because of the loss of friends and property, a totally different thing to that Christian mourning which has the promise of being comforted.

Right Living vs. Medicine.

(Detroit Free Press.)

Doctor Krusen, who is in charge of the public health department of Philadelphia, recently warned the public that medicines play a really minor part in the treatment of disease, and added:

"Tradition, custom and the 'medicine man' have been largely responsible for the extensive use of drugs.

There are many people who still believe that illness requires the immediate use of medicines and that there are some mysterious or miraculous qualities in them which drive away the evil spirits of fever. Indiscretion in diet, overdrinking, careless habits and improper living cannot be corrected by taking the contents of the corked medicine bottle. As a matter of fact, the number of drugs which are considered as specifics for definite diseases may be counted on the fingers of one hand."

These are sober words from a scientific authority, a man trained in the use of drugs in the treatment of disease. Those individuals who are recklessly risking health in the pursuit of unwise indulgences and who are quieting their consciences and fears with the belief that they do not wreck their health they will be able to buy it back with the physician's assistance will do well to wake up to the facts.

Medicines are not omnipotent. The physician is not omniscient. Not all disease is conquerable. Not all folly can be cured by a dose or two from some mysterious bottle. Health is a fragile treasure requiring constant watchfulness.

Smile From the Pulpit.

(Philadelphia Public Ledger.)

Delegates to the general assembly of the Presbyterian church are advised by one of the speakers to smile and keep on smiling, while they preach. Certainly what the world today requires is more than ever, the gospel of optimism, of radiant and cheery faith, hope and charity.

The down-hearted we have with us always.

A wise man has said that every man has a book in him; assuredly every man has a hard luck story concealed somewhere upon his person, if you give him a chance to tell it. We grow tired, all of us, of hearing that the world is about to come to an end or that the country is going to the dogs.

It requires no great acumen to discover that human nature is rotten to the core; but what we want to hear is a sunny philosophy of a man who discovers, as he keeps on growing younger, that the best is yet to be.

People go to church on Sunday morning, when they do go, not to be infinitely depressed and disheartened by being told that the times are evil in this "vale of tears" and that for any hopeful prospect a man might as well gaze into the depths of his own hat. No; they want to hear a new courage to go forward and discover that "God never closes a door without opening a window."

More than 235,000 miles of telegraph cable underly the oceans of the world.

Verdun.

(Indianapolis News.)

A century ago Verdun, now the pivot of the struggle on the eastern front, was virtually an English town. It was there that Napoleon, in 1803, interned most of the English tourists in France. They were arrested on the rupture of the treaty of Amiens as a reprisal for the seizure of French ships in British ports. From 1803 until 1814, when the allies entered Paris, thousands of British tourists lived in compulsory exile in France. Many were men and women of wealth and title. They had taken their families, their carriages and servants with them to France and were following the "grand tour" when they were caught by the resumption of hostilities. Verdun became for the time thoroughly English—there were English shops in every street, English clubs, including a Jockey club, and there were regular race meetings. The interned Englishmen had their own church, and it was one of the pastimes of the French to watch the exiles leaving the edifice after services on Sunday mornings.

PRESIDENTIAL POINTERS

At the eighth presidential election in 1816, 19 states took part with a total electoral vote of 217. There were only two candidates, James Monroe, Republican, and Rufus King, Federalist. Daniel D. Tompkins ran for vice president with Monroe, while there were several candidates for vice president on the King ticket. Monroe and Tompkins received 183 electoral votes against 34 for King and a scattering vote among the vice presidential candidates.

Heretofore the Republican party has enjoyed a conspicuous reputation for ability to forget internal grudges and get together on the eve of battle. This summer will afford

A Hot Time.

Kansas City broke all excitement records when Billy Sunday and Theodore Roosevelt, two of the greatest of human dynamos, met in that whirling centre of emotion and stirred up the vast depths of popular sentiment. Either one of them would furnish mental and moral dissipation enough for any ordinary occasion, but the two together gave Kansas City a thrill unsurpassed in that town of many sensations.

"The greatest American alive" is the phrase in which the Rev. Mr. Sunday described the Colonel. Certainly Mr. Roosevelt in politics is very much like Mr. Sunday in religion. They both give us hell in large doses, and neither permits any appeal from his decision. It is natural that Mr. Sunday should admire Mr. Roosevelt, and it would be the height of ingratitude if the latter did not return the compliment with an Oyster Bay certificate of religious efficiency. Still there will be Americans who will prefer to take both their politics and theology with less fire and brimstone in them.

Food Situation.

Not alone to the European nations but to the United States has the food situation become an acute problem. In this country also it has its serious aspects.

Germany under necessity has its meatless days and a food dictator. In Great Britain, where prices have risen over 50 per cent, the Government is considering the question of putting the people on meat rations.

Unlike these two countries, the United States normally produces a surplus of meats. But the war in Europe has so shaped conditions in the United States that many poor families and others with limited incomes have been compelled to change their diet and largely go without meat. Whatever the cause, whether because of heavy exports or manipulation of the market to many workers the prices of most kinds of meats are almost prohibitive.

Thomson-Sedgwick.
The wedding of Miss Katherine Sedgwick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Sedgwick, of Hudson avenue, and Mr. Clifford G. Thomson of Troy, O., was beautifully solemnized at the Sedgwick home, Thursday evening.

The appointed hour was 8 o'clock and at that time the bridal party took their places as the wedding march was played by Prof. W. C. Schmidt, pianist and Donald Kissane, violinist.

The two parlors had been transformed into a bower of greenery and in the back parlor, the improvised altar was banked with palms and ferns, among which were placed the tall standards bearing the cathedral candles.

The bridal party was led by Miss Louise Elliott maid of honor of Newark. Mrs. Homer Chamberlain, of Toledo was matron of honor, and the three bridesmaids were Misses Leontine Moore, Luora Phillips, and Mary Maholm of Newark. The bride was given away by her father, Dr. Sedgwick. She wore a gown of embroidered net made with the exceptionally full skirt which was corded. The veil fell to the bottom of the skirt, and was the one worn by the mother of the bride, at her marriage twenty-six years ago this month. It was fashioned with a shirred cap and was wreathed with orange blossoms. The bouquet was a Colonial shovel.

The maid of honor, Miss Elliott wore a net gown tinted in pink and the maids and matron of honor wore white net frocks. The skirts of which were fashioned with hoops and bound with white satin ribbon. All the bouquets were delightful Colonial nosegays of the varied flowers with the knotted ribbons.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Stewart Sedgwick of Cincinnati, brother of the bride and the beautiful ring service was read by Rev. Don Tullis, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served, the table appointments being in pink and white. The bridal table was centered with a mound of pink and white rosebuds, the crystal candle holders were canopied in pink, and the favors and place cards were in pink. Seated at the bridal table were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Thomson, Mrs. Homer Chamberlain, Miss Louise Elliott, Leontine Moore, Luora Phillips, and Mary Maholm, Messrs. Stewart Sedgwick, of Cincinnati, Messrs. Ralph Agna, Charles Hobart, William Hobart, Edward Hobart, Raymond White of Troy and Fred Palmer of Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomson left in their machine for Indianapolis and will spend several weeks in the west, and on their return will be at home in Market street, Troy. The bride wore a traveling suit of black taffeta with a black embroidered hem and hat with ostrich quills.

Mrs. Thompson was graduated from the Newark High school and studied music at the Denison Conservatory of Music. Mr. Thomson also is a former student and is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He is engaged in the turniture business in Troy.

Tribute to Mrs. D. D. Jewett.
(Sioux Falls, S. D., Argus-Leader.)

In the "Alumni," a paper issued to invite all the old graduates and former members of the faculty to attend the commencement of the high school at Newark, O., this year, there appears a poetic and very tender tribute to Madame D. D. Jewett of this city, who as Miss Niles was the first teacher in the school.

When the little town of Newark decided at a meeting of its school board sixty-six years ago that the time had come for the addition of a high school to their grade courses, D. D. Jewett, one of the board members, was selected to go forth and engage a teacher, "the best in the country" was his instruction. It was Mr. Jewett's belief that in Miss Niles he had found quite "the best in the country," and in 1854, four years after arriving at the Newark school, she became his bride. The following poem shows just how well those people back in Newark have cherished for sixty and more years their love for this splendid woman, who now in her 90th year, resides with her son, D. C. Jewett in this city.

To Mrs. D. D. Jewett, Sioux Falls, S. D.
(Miss Niles)
High school teacher 1850-54. Newark, Ohio.
How you do it
Mrs. Jewett,
Is a mystery to me
'Tis a pity
That your city
Is so far removed you see.

You are witty
You are pretty.
With your dark eyes sparkling bright.
What is rarer—
To be fairer
At the passing years take flight.
'Twould be pleasure,
Without measure,
If with us you could sit down
At this meeting!
We send greeting—
From your old Ohio town.

A party of Columbus friends had the pleasure of spending the week's holiday with Rev. and Mrs. Tilleston Chambers of Granville, Ohio. A bountiful porch luncheon was one of the enjoyable features of their kind hospitality. Rev. Mr. Chambers is now secretary of the Ohio Baptist convention and is heartily engaged in his new line of state work.—Columbus Dispatch.

A very enjoyable day was spent at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Willey of North Hanover, Sunday, May 21, honoring Mr. Willey's 70th birthday anniversary.

The children planned a surprise on him, which proved a success in every way, all being present with the exception of three sons, Ira of Johnstown, Pa., Charles of Cleveland, and Walter of Columbus, the former son, Ira sending a telegram announcing his congratulations.

Thirty guests, including the children, grand children and a few invited friends, partook of a sumptuous four-course dinner. The afternoon was spent with music and with the singing of old songs and hymns, which recalled the days of long ago, when the children were all at their father's fireside.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hoyt and children, Marion and Annabel of Perryton; Helen and Katherine Hessian of Cambridge; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Willey and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Willey of Centerburg; Mr. and Mrs. David Miller and children Ethel, Carl, Carrie, Floyd and Evelyn of Wilkins; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith and children, Roy, Dolley and Russell; Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. John Willey, Mr. J. B. Willey and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Willey, all of Hanover.

The members of the Sunshine club were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. S. P. Smith on Fourth street on Thursday afternoon and the club souvenir was awarded to Mrs. Joseph Thompson. One visitor was present, Mrs. Martin Jewell. New officers were elected, as follows: President, Mrs. Garrison; vice president, Mrs. Smith; secretary, Mrs. Collins. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held on Thursday afternoon, June 15, at the home of Mrs. Walter Freese in Locus street.

Mrs. Charles Flory entertained the members of her sewing club on Saturday afternoon at her home in West Church street. The hours were informally spent and luncheon was served. There were no guests.

George Williams.

Rev. A. B. Cox, pastor of the East Main Street U. B. church officiated at the marriage of Mrs. Grace Williams and Mr. Clarence W. George, of Cleveland, painter of the "Spirit of 1776," which has served as an inspiration for the demonstration and which will be reproduced in tables in the line of march, will be a guest in the reviewing stand.

Under orders from Chief of Police Charles C. Healy, more than 2300 police officers and patrolmen will line the streets along the route of the parade to insure safe and easy handling of the marchers.

MEETING HELD ON EAST SIDE
LAST EVENING

There was a well attended meeting of the members of the East Side Industrial and Improvement Association at Fromholts Hall last evening, President David Metz presiding. Secretary Ben Montgomery read the minutes of the last meeting and after they had been approved several bills were allowed after which several matters pertinent to those citizens residing on the East Side were discussed.

A committee was next appointed to arrange for a big "Booster" meeting and it will meet shortly and arrange the date, which will possibly be Thursday evening, June 15, or else two weeks later, the 29th. At that time the association wants every resident of the East Side to be present as matters of interest to them all will be taken up.

The meeting was adjourned after all present had agreed to do their utmost to influence every property owner in the East Side to turn out for the "Booster" meeting.

Readers' Viewpoint

Editor of the Advocate:

Why Newark cannot have some uniformity among her merchant body in regard to closing on holidays, and on the summer half-holiday each week, is a riddle, and it occurs to us there is a good deal of "whipping the devil 'round a stump" in the matter, which if persisted in, will do as much to send the business of the city and county to other sources, as anything we can do.

This is not merely echo. You talk with some of our country friends, who are frank enough to discuss the matter, or step into the money order department at the post office, upon the return of the rural carrier, and see the "attraction of foreign solicitation" through mail orders. Does this petty business of deferring, demurring, and opposing the closing movement, tend to unity, and the encouragement of the country trade which we all want, need and appreciate?

If we want the trade of Licking county, let's act like it! Let's take the public into our confidence. Let city and county co-operate, and they can and will, if they can shop in Newark without studying the calendar before starting.

The country shopper is progressive, and will spend her money where there is the appeal, and the invitation; where there is the atmosphere that is "honey." She does not seek the element of discord, at home or abroad, and can be trusted.

If it is known, and advertised, that Newark believes in all the recognized legal holidays, and in her Thursday afternoons, (or any other agreeable, mutually convenient afternoon), through all the hot months, say June to October; wants, invites and must have the country support to keep Newark on the map, and real estate values from depreciating throughout the county, there will be welded the mutual bonds that bind us into one great family, without which there can be no real progress.

We must take our country friends more largely into account, for we need each other, and they will not begrudge us a respite from service, if we only acquaint them with the time. Think it over.

Editor of the Advocate:

I would like to suggest to the two great political parties who are to hold their national conventions during this month, that for one plank of their respective platforms they take the closing paragraph of Lincoln's last inaugural address, which reads as follows:

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widows and his orphans, to do all that may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations!"

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't stay gray! Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

"My customers take the cake," says the druggist. "With you've

EAT LESS MEAT
IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if bladder bothers you—drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys; they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation. The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water-drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

Bishop Quayle, June 3.

In commenting on the work of Bishop Quayle who will give his lecture on Hamlet at the First M. E. church on Monday evening, June 5, a Chautauqua editorial contains the following:

"After sitting under the spell for two hours almost breathless, the average listener gets up not quite decided yet whether he should be completely transported by the lecture or not. But good impression deepens.

After all it wasn't poetry—or poetry simply. There was a keen analysis running through the entire discourse—keen as a Damascus blade. That man sees into things deeply, and he seems to know everything—to have read every book ever written. Yes he is a philosopher as well as a poet, a thinker as well as a painter; a student as well as an orator. And the more you think about his lectures the more you are convinced that they are away above the ordinary—they are absolutely unique.

Some of us come around to the same conclusion as did Chicago literary critic of high standing who thoughtfully remarked: "Take Quayle, all in all, I think him the most eloquent man I ever heard!"

THE NEWEST REMEDY

FOR

Backache, Rheumatism and Dropsy.

Kidney, Bladder and Uric Acid troubles bring misery to many. When the kidneys are weak or diseased, these natural filters do not cleanse the blood sufficiently, and the poisons are carried to all parts of the body. There follow depression, aches and pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chills and rheumatism. In some people there are sharp pains in the neck and joints, distending the muscles and sometimes causing swelling and dropsy. The uric acid sometimes forms into gravel or kidney stones. When the uric acid affects the muscles and joints, it causes lumbago, rheumatism, gout or sciatica. This is the time to try "Auric."

During digestion uric acid is absorbed into the system from meat eaten, and even from some vegetables. The poor kidneys get tired and backache begins. This is a good time to take "Auric," the new discovery of Dr. Pierce for Kidney Troubles and Backache. Neglected kidney trouble is responsible for many deaths, and Insurance Company examining doctors always test the water of an applicant before a policy will be issued. Have you ever set aside a bottle of water for twenty-four hours? A heavy sediment or settling sometimes indicates kidney trouble. The true nature and character of diseases, especially those of the kidneys and urinary organs, can often be determined by a careful chemical analysis and microscopic examination. This is done by expert chemists of the Medical Staff of the Lehigh Hotel. If you wish to know your condition send a sample of your water to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and describe your symptoms. It will be examined without any expense to you, and Doctor Pierce or his Staff of Assisting Physicians will inform you truthfully.

KNOW THYSELF.

Read all about yourself, your system, the physiology of the urinary, hygienic simple rules given in the "Common Sense Medical Advocate," a book of 1000 pages. Send to Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., three names or 30 cents in one-cent stamps for a cloth-bound copy.

Whitening the Skin.

A paste made of pure castile soap and ordinary cornmeal will whiten hands, forearms and elbows if systematically applied. Take five cents worth of castile soap, shave fine and melt in boiling water. Stir in enough cornmeal to make a thick paste and let stand five minutes.

When partially cooled this paste should be spread thickly over hands and arms and allowed to stay on ten minutes. Then scrub it off with a flesh brush and rub some cold cream into the skin. Repeat this treatment every day for a week and then apply the cornmeal paste every other week. You will soon find that you possess white soft arms that gleam like satin.

Pumice stone, applied with a small brush, will remove the callous from ill-treated elbows, but the skin will look red and shiny afterward. Regular use of cold cream and lemon juice on the elbows on alternate nights will be much better, but the pumice may have to be resorted to if the elbows have been neglected and one is horrified and astonished to find how rough they look sometimes when short sleeves are to be donned. In this contingency, after scrubbing with powdered pumice, a little bleach may be applied to the elbows and a dusting of talcum added.

Strawberry juice is excellent for whitening the skin of hands and arms. Cucumber juice also, and both of these may be used in season. Lemon juice is a sure whitener of the skin though it has a drying effect on some skins that is not altogether agreeable.

If there is a growth of hair on the forearm never attempt to shave it off—it will only return, heavier, coarser and in dark color. Bleach it more wisely, with peroxides of hydrogen, applied undiluted with a small brush. This will not injure the skin and will make the fine hairs so pale in color that they will show scarcely at all against the skin.

Our Boys and Girls

The boy realizes that the other children are prepared to take advantage of him and the instinctive habit of self-protection, common to all animals, makes him resent the attempt. In his efforts to maintain his own rights he is very likely to become insolent and dictatorial and will not hesitate to take advantage of the fact that he is younger than the others, and so under the protection of his elders, who he feels certain will be on his side, in the discussion.

A child is never too young to be taught that he must not be selfish and must ask no more than his rights. This habit of lording it over all his companions may increase as he grows older unless a wise mother can reason him out of it.

Physician's Prescription For Rheumatism

Business and professional men of large means who have taken expensive baths at famous resorts and have spent money lavishly to rid themselves of the tormenting agony of rheumatism have turned to Rheuma and got well.

When Rheuma goes in, poisonous secretions go out. No opiates or narcotics are used. Rheuma drives out the cause of rheumatism and speedily brings comfort and health and most druggists will admit it.

Two bottles of Rheuma will cost you a dollar of T. J. Evans or any druggist, and if this purchase does not bring you the freedom from pain and misery you expected, your money is waiting for you.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Osthine Prescription

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any druggist under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of osthine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength osthine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

The World War a Year Ago

Today—June 2.

The German general staff reported that during May more than 300,000 Russians were captured by the Austro-German and German armies, chiefly in the campaigns in Galicia.

The British and French embassies in Washington assured the state department officials that the allies would give safe conduct to Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, a former German cabinet officer who had publicly justified in this country the sinking of the Lusitania.

The Austro-German forces attacking Przemysl captured two fortifications north of the fortress and maintained the captured ground against a counterattack.

Everyday Etiquette

"Could you give me an idea how to announce a wedding engagement?" pleaded Julia.

"You might invite your girl intimates to a luncheon or tea for the purpose of communicating the fact to them. Announcements of engagements are often printed in the papers but these usually follow the social function. However, neither of these methods is essential, as one of the best ways of spreading the news is to write notes to your friends or acquaint them of it by word of mouth," instructed her married sister.

HORSE LOOKS AT WATCH AND TELLS THE TIME

One of Wonders of Big Carnival Delights Many Visitors—Big Crowd Sees Shows Late Night.

Have you seen Arabia? We are not referring to the races spread over the African and Syrian deserts, nor to any human being for that matter, but to an animal, a horse, that is so intelligent he is known in the show world as the equine wonder, with the "human brain." Arabia is now a Newark visitor, but his stay in this city is a short one, as he will leave with the Con T. Kennedy Shows tomorrow night.

Many local residents have seen the wonderful animal perform, and have marveled at his ability to understand the questions asked him, many of which require an intellect above the average to comprehend. Arabia is a thoroughbred with a pedigree as

IF YOU WORRY, READ THIS

Worry never brought any good to anybody. But, you say, "I don't worry because I want to." I worry because I can't help it." Dr. "I worry because I have so much to worry about."

We all have our troubles and worry, of course, makes matters worse. The patient generally recognizes this fact, without being able to profit by it. The doctor who could meet this nervous condition and cure it would be the most popular medical man alive. But he cannot do it because the form of nervous exhaustion known as neurasthenia, of which worry is a characteristic symptom, cannot be cured by the patient himself. That is why you should write today for the book "Diseases of the Nervous System" and read the chapter on "Neurasthenia." So many people have read it and written back, "This fits my case exactly. I am giving the treatment a trial and being benefited," that the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has had a lot of these books printed and will send you a copy free on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a non-alcoholic tonic, particularly suited for nervous, neurasthenic people. Your druggist sells them or they will be mailed postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

Glass of Water Before You Eat Any Breakfast

Wash poison from system each morning and feel fresh as a daisy.

Every day you clean the house you live in to get rid of the dust and dirt which collected through the previous day. Your body, the house your soul lives in, also becomes filled up each twenty-four hours with all manner of filth and poison. If only every man and woman could realize the wonders of drinking phosphated hot water, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags," and pessimists, we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

Everyone, whether sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

GIRL RESCUED FROM A WATERY GRAVE IN LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. "Bill" Jones of the Kennedy shows chaperoned a fishing and boating party at Buckeye Lake today. All left on the 10 o'clock car and before 11 o'clock there were just twenty-six industrious fishermen trying to land the first fish. The honor fell to Miss Fay, the champion woman horse trainer with the Society Horse show, who pulled out a two and a half pound bass and immediately wanted to start for home. They assured her the fish would not get away and a sudden scream and splash drew the party to the end of the state pier where a bunch of red hair was seen on top of the water.

William Floto, the good looking press agent for Mr. Kennedy, did not hesitate a minute but throwing off his coat and hat plunged into the lake and came up with Miss "Bobby" Murray who had taken an impromptu bath when she stumbled over a projection on the pier. Miss Murray was taken to one of the nearby cottages where she procured a change of clothing and the sport was continued for an hour longer, a string of seven nice bass, eighteen blue gills and thirty-six Lake Eries being landed. These were served camp fashion on the shore above Picnic Point, Mr. Kamerer of the Miracle show acting as chef. He proved that he was no novice at the art of cooking by serving a most delicious dinner.

The party enjoyed the balance of the day in bathing, motorboating and sight seeing and indulging in races and various contests. All had a delightful time and pronounced Buckeye Lake one of the most delightful places which they had ever visited.

FRAMPTON

HELP FOR WORKING WOMEN

Some Have to Keep on Until They Almost Drop. How Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. How she regained health—

Frankfort, Ky.—"I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all you claim. Now I feel as well as ever I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. JAMES CONLEY, 516 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it will be confidential.

CAMPAIGN IS ENDORSED BY ORGANIZATIONS

Since it has been announced that the Newark Young Men's Christian Association would enter upon a campaign to provide funds to pay the mortgage indebtedness and current expense obligations of that worthy organization, the management of the Association has been receiving many exhibitions of kindly interest, and much that has been genuine encouragement. The thing that has pleased the Board of Directors most, is the unqualified endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce of the city of Newark. These business men, representing the commercial interests of the community, recognize the value of this character building enterprise to Newark, and the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce recently passed unanimously the following resolution:

"Inasmuch as the Y. M. C. A. of our city is about to enter upon a campaign to raise money to pay off its debt and provide for the current expenses for two years, the Board of Directors of the Newark Chamber of Commerce realizing the permanent benefit derived by the City from this organization through its many activities gives the present undertaking its endorsement and commends it to the favorable consideration of the Citizens of Newark.

"Signed,

"FRANK L. BEGGS, Pres."
At a meeting last evening, the Newark Rotary Club passed a resolution unanimously endorsing the movement to raise $30,000 to relieve the pressure on the local Young Men's Christian Association. The words "Rotary" and "service" are synonymous and many of the men connected with the Rotary Club of Newark, are active in the propagation of this campaign. In fact, the great majority of Rotarians will give their personal service in helping to win success.
